PREFACE.

At last we have the pleasure of presenting the Catalogue of this celebrated collection of ancient coins to American numismatists, and take this opportunity to apologize for its late appearance, which was caused by the destruction by fire of the type and paper when it was ready to go to press. This unfortunately delayed us an entire month.

It is scarcely necessary to notice any particular pieces, for the collection embraces specimens of nearly all the celebrated coins of antiquity, besides a very large number of interesting pieces which, if of less note, are of equal interest, and will certainly sell at very low prices. For this reason we have sent the Catalogue to a large number of persons who, although not regular coin collectors, will, we feel certain, embrace this opportunity to procure a few specimens of these everlasting mementos of a past age.

We wish to call particular attention to the fact that the coins in this collection are to be sold in the evening, instead of the afternoon, as usual. We have made this change for the convenience of gentlemen who are unable to attend auctions held in the daytime, thereby giving all an opportunity of purchasing, and also of seeing what they buy. The coins will be on exhibition throughout the day in the salesroom.

In regard to the condition of the various pieces, we can insure intending purchasers at a distance that they have all been faithfully described, and, in cases of the slightest doubt, the condition of the coins has, if anything, been rather under-estimated.

To the large number of new collectors to whom this Catalogue will be sent, and who have not yet commenced to purchase their coins at auction, we would say, in regard to the selling, each lot will be knocked down to the highest bidder; the lots are sold so much for each coin in it, so if you desire a lot of coins which contains ten, and you wish to pay $1.00 for it, your bid should be 10 cents, which would be $1.00 for the lot. Amateurs sending their bids in from a distance should be very particular in regard to this. The Auctioneers, Messrs. Scott, and other dealers, will attend to the purchasing of any desired lots for parties unable to attend the sale, at a charge of 10 per cent. Always state your highest price, and rely on the honor of those you employ to make the purchases for you at as low a figure as possible.

After the sale, copies of this Catalogue can be had, with printed prices, for $1.50, post free; or with photographs, $1.00 extra. Orders should be sent in immediately.
